Read Isaiah 58

List as many markers or characteristics you can think of that would be associated with God's kingdom.

Which of those characteristics can you recognize in Jesus' death on the cross? If his death established the kingdom, what are the ramifications for us? How does this change the way we think about what the cross accomplished?

Does it change anything about how we engage the problems of the world if our goal is to live out the values of God's kingdom? If so, how?

Identify as many forms of service as you can in Isaiah 58. Have you experienced the kinds of personal benefits Isaiah describes as coming from giving ourselves away to meet the needs of others?

What kingdom value would you like to see God expand in your own soul? Ask him to provide you with the kinds of service opportunities that will help you see him more clearly.
