Read Nehemiah 2:1-10

Nehemiah sought God even while he enacted his plan and approached the king. Which is harder for you -- taking the time to pray before you act, or actually making decisions and moving forward? How do you wait on God and step out in faith at the same time?

The king went above and beyond what was asked of him. Can you think of a time when God did that for you?

What are some times in Scripture when there was a delay before receiving an answer to prayer? Why do you think God doesn't always answer immediately?

Like Christ, Nehemiah brought everything with him that the people of Judah needed to rebuild. If you were to ask Christ for one particular "resupply" right now, what would it be?

How does it change the story for you to read it with Christ in the role of Nehemiah (instead of seeing that as your role)?
